

Metro

Langston Hughes' Black Nativity

Courier Editor
January 8, 2019

NIA GOODMAN

REBAKAH ROUSE

MARY AND JOSEPH, played by Aubrey Luttrell and Oronde Sharif

Shona Sharif African Dance and Drum Ensemble Inc., presented Langston Hughes' Black Nativity, Dec. 14-22, at Charity Randall Theatre, 4301 Forbes Ave. Originally written by famed poet and playwright Langston Hughes, Black Nativity fused scenes from the classic Christmas story with exhilarating African dance and traditional Gospel music. Pittsburgh's finest actors, vocalists and dancers took the stage as they brought the journey of Mary and Joseph to life and shared testimonies about the reason for the season. Courier photographer J.L. Martello captured the event in pictures.

Like us at <https://www.facebook.com/pages/New-Pittsburgh-Courier/143866755628836?ref=hl>

Follow @NewPghCourier on Twitter <https://twitter.com/NewPghCourier>

Comments

ALSO ON NEW PITTSBURGH COURIER

'Malcolm &amp; Marie'—the couple is toxic, ... 5 months ago • 1 comment by Mercedes J. Williams For New Pittsburgh Courier In most cases, when a ...	Courier exclusive: Lisa Washington leaving ... 8 months ago • 1 comment Courier exclusive: Lisa Washington leaving KDKA on Nov. 13 — moving to ...	In first act of new Congress, Rep. ... 6 months ago • 1 comment By Stacy M. Brown, NNPA Newswire Senior National Correspondent With the ...	CCAC to t series on : 5 months ago The New Pit has learned Community t
--	--	---	--